KNOW THE RIGHT TIME TO
REMEMBER THE SERPENTINE
SYSTEM

Belts, tensioners and pulleys all have the same wear rate and replacement interval – 90,000 miles. Plus, the following components are connected to the serpentine system and typically are replaced around that same 90,000-mile interval:

- Alternators
- A/C Compressors
- Power Steering Pumps

When you remove these parts, remember to replace all the system components for reduced comebacks. And better yet, it's giving the vehicle owner the best value by saving labor and future downtime.
